OEDIPUS ORK

Alice, eighteen-year-old daughter of provincial middle-class parents, has been kidnapped. She has had an affair with her kidnapper and has killed him. But her father does not want to pay the ransom and so the girl hates him so much that she suspects him of not being her real father. So she finds out that her mother had a lover in the past. Alice finds the lover and, out of revenge, makes love with him. The poor fellow is killed in a gruesome manner while pursuing Alice.
